

Wine Spectator

2005 Cabernet Sauvignon, RESERVE
Red Mountain

Bright, focused currant and blackberry flavors play against a bed of fine tannins and deft hints of roasted meat and spice as the flavors sail over an open, refined frame.

Score: 90 Points

Wine Spectator

2006 Carmenerre, Walla Walla Valley

Generous, open-textured and distinctive for its warm, enveloping range of plum, blueberry and toast flavors, remaining supple through the expansive finish.

Score: 91 Points

Wine Spectator

2005 Pentad, Vintage Red Wine,
Walla Walla Valley

Lithe and distinctive, with a tarry edge to the bright cherry and spice flavors, finishing with a refreshingly open texture and lively acidity to balance the flavors.

Score: 90 Points

Wine Spectator

2006 Merlot, Seven Hills Vineyard
Walla Walla Valley

Smooth and round, with an orange peel edge to the spicy black cherry flavors, finishing polished and generous. Drink now through 2013. 350 cases made

Score: 90 Points

Wine Spectator

2006 Ciel du Cheval, Vintage Red Wine,
Walla Walla Valley

Bright and generous in flavor, while keeping the structure elegant. This weaves a green note through the ripe, appealing blackberry and black currant flavors, lingering expressively on the long finish.

Score: 92 Points

Wine Spectator

2005 Cabernet Sauvignon, Klipsun
Vineyard, Red Mountain

Bright, lively and impeccably balanced, delivering its pretty strawberry, currant and delicate herbal flavors on a deft frame of fine tannins and lacy acidity.

Score: 90 Points

